

Clients

Actionline offer exceptional attention to detail and a highly personal and supportive service, to employers and applicants alike. They have been responsive, courteous and professional in their dealings with Woodhouse – I have been particularly impressed by their customer service and regular contact throughout the recruitment process, ensuring that things are progressing smoothly for candidate and company.

Woodhouse UK Plc

We were so impressed with the temps provided by Actionline that two of them are now key members of staff.

Purple Seven Ltd

Having had associations with Actionline for many years, I cannot praise their professionalism enough. They always provide the right person for the right job, taking care to make sure each candidate would fit into the correct environment. I would always use Actionline as the first point of contact when wanting to fill any position.

Warwickshire Care Services

Just a personal note of thanks for the timely, friendly and effective way in which you and the team handled our latest appointment. I am pleased with the outcome and hope to be speaking to you shortly, as we further enhance the team.

Henley Research

Once again – thanks for the swift response but also for the calibre of candidates that you have provided. We are really impressed and very grateful!

Actionline in my experience have always been extremely helpful, friendly and proactive in finding employment. I really do feel they are a cut above the rest as the staff are approachable and put you at ease and maintain contact with you whilst seeking a new job. I think the vacancies they have for jobseekers are always from high calibre, professional companies.

I found that the service that Actionline provided me with was second to none. Actionline were helpful, friendly and gave me company background and knowledge to provide me with sufficient preparation for the role that I am currently now doing and enjoying tremendously! The consultants were a pleasure to talk to and the people skills that they possess I wish that more agencies followed their rules! I have no hesitation in recommending that my experience of Actionline was the best that I have ever had from an agency that I have registered with.

Over the years Actionline have been extremely helpful and caring when ever I have been searching for a new position. The very friendly team have gone out of their way to find me temping when needed, including my present position which started as a temporary job and has now been permanent for the last 12 months. They have a great skill in matching the right person to the right job!

Actionline was one of the first temping agencies I signed up with and has always been the best: both professional and caring. I often felt with other agencies that I was just one face among many but at Actionline I felt that a conscious effort was made to welcome and know me. The staff are always friendly and professional and have an amazing capacity for remembering faces and greeting by name! I have often recommended them on the basis of a consistently high quality of service and know that other people have found the same to be true. Actionline have never messed up my pay and, unlike some agencies, always pay me my holiday pay. I would also add that the offices they use are above the standard of many other local agencies in comfort and tidiness!
